MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 22

The Marion Star brags about Mrs. Fallie Bartley being able to write 200 words per hour. That is nothing. There is a girl in Ohio, at Troy, who can talk 200 words per minute. By the way, we have the authority of a old Trojan soldier for the fact—state Journal.

All right. The star can furnish proof of the writing but how will the Journal vouch for the 200 words per minute? How does the Trojan make the count? A phonograph would be overtaken with such a task.

It is hardly necessary to express a welcome to the Masonic brethren, of the Grand Chapter and Grand Council of Ohio, who are to be our guests this week. The fervor of Marion's invitation to their grand bodies left no doubt on that score, and the Marion Masons voiced the sentiment of Marion's citizens in inviting so distinguished a body of guests here.

The Masonic bodies will, of course, have all entertainment in charge and there is confidence that they will do it well. The great parent secret society is held in very high esteem here, as elsewhere, and the members are expected to see that the visiting brethren get as good an opinion of Marion as the city deserves.

If anybody or anything stands in the way of a royal good time, let the way be cleared by a charge from a regiment of property goats—regular "Billies" that stop for nothing, not even a candidate's fears—and the city will be at your disposal.

ELECTRIC SPARKS.

A pocket telephone has been introduced in Berlin.

In Rochester the street railway lines are being changed into an electric system.

Over 40,000 passengers, at penny and two penny fares, have been carried in the electric launches at the Edinburgh exhibition.

An electrical indicator of the accumulation of explosive gases is now found most valuable in mining operations and in the transport of coal by ships.

Bakers are now using the electric motor as a bread mixer, and are thus enabled to do in four or five minutes an amount of work that would otherwise require hours of hand labor.

The Associated Press has given instructions to its telegraph operators to learn the manipulation of the typewriter, as it is found that this instrument materially increases the speed of receiving messages.

Various new applications of electricity are reported from France. It is said that the government military workshops at Meudon are now quite busy with the manufacture of electric motors for use in battle in time of war.

An expert report has been made on the lighting of the London theatres by electricity, which goes to show that temporary electric lighting on a small scale can be produced more cheaply by batteries than by gas engines and dynamos.

A recent warrant of the emperor of Germany orders that the ladies of the administration of posts, telegraphs and telephones shall be clad in a special uniform. Henceforth these ladies will have to wear knitted blue jersey with orange velvet collar, with metal buttons and ornaments.

ATCHISON PHILOSOPHY.

Sympathy increases tears oftener than it dries them up.

It is better to earn $2 by hard work than to have $1 given to you.

As long as his neighbor has a life no man feels the lack of a defense.

Those years have been fruitfully spent which have not taught us justice.

It is sometimes proper for intelligence to use money to induce ignorance to do right.

People are accustomed to speak solemnly of death, but life is a good deal more serious.

Permitting the friendship of some men is giving them an opening to introduce the narrow end of a wedge.

When a man sits down because he wants to, six other men depending upon him have to sit down whether they want to or not.

It is as necessary to be as moderate in abuse, if you would injure a man, as it is to be moderate in praise if you would benefit him.

People who are talked about and are guilty have the satisfaction of knowing that occasionally people are talked about who are not guilty.

There are three or four different kinds of men, three or four different kinds of women and three or four different kinds of communities. When you know these you know the world.—Atchison table.

JAPANESE BACKWARDNESS.

At Japanese dinners the sweets precede the meats.

Boats are hauled upon the beaches stem first in Japan.

The Japanese saw and heard with their eyes instead of with their ears.

In Japan studies the horse stands with his head where his tail ought to be.

The Japanese looks down when he ends the world thus coming where we put the title page.

In great part a reason Japan is so far behind the animal is a backwardness in the side instead of to the right.

The best reason for a Japanese being always at the back and under the wheel building, begin with the roof.

In Japanese books the first page is printed at the top of the page and the reader puts in his marker at the bottom.

GOD WILL REFORM THEM.

OR, TALKING ON GOD'S THOUGHTS OF PURIFICATION.

The Bible promises us that in the future we shall have a new heaven and a new earth, and that we shall be made like unto God.

But this is not a mere promise, it is a reality. We are now in a state of sin and iniquity, but God will reform us and make us like unto himself.

God will reform us by his word and by his works. He will give us a new heart and a new mind, and he will give us a new life and a new hope.

God will reform us by his love and by his mercy. He will forgive us our sins and he will give us a new life and a new hope.

God will reform us by his power and by his might. He will give us a new heart and a new mind, and he will give us a new life and a new hope.

God will reform us by his grace and by his mercy. He will forgive us our sins and he will give us a new life and a new hope.

God will reform us by his love and by his mercy. He will forgive us our sins and he will give us a new life and a new hope.

God will reform us by his power and by his might. He will give us a new heart and a new mind, and he will give us a new life and a new hope.

God will reform us by his grace and by his mercy. He will forgive us our sins and he will give us a new life and a new hope.

God will reform us by his love and by his mercy. He will forgive us our sins and he will give us a new life and a new hope.

God will reform us by his power and by his might. He will give us a new heart and a new mind, and he will give us a new life and a new hope.

God will reform us by his grace and by his mercy. He will forgive us our sins and he will give us a new life and a new hope.

God will reform us by his love and by his mercy. He will forgive us our sins and he will give us a new life and a new hope.

God will reform us by his power and by his might. He will give us a new heart and a new mind, and he will give us a new life and a new hope.

—Tom Hodder came down from Chicago and spent Sunday with friends.

—The C. H. V. and T. boys were showing large rolls of money Saturday by reason of the arrival of the pay car.

—The Misses Julia and Emma Wietzell and Mrs. Herman Wietzell, of Columbus, are the guests of Miss Katie Fies.

—The Marion Electric Light and Power Co. met Saturday evening and re-elected the old board of directors. A dividend of 6 per cent. was declared on the first year's business.

—Mrs. Mealey and daughter, of Richwood, spent Sunday with Mrs. Mealey's mother and Mr. Mealey is an employee of Rosenburg's shoe store, and he will move his family here about the first of the month.

—Mrs. E. J. Fairfield, Miss Wallace and Mrs. Mary Sharpless have a china kiln, and desire to announce that it will be fired twice each week, on Tuesday and Thursday, until the holidays. China may be left with Mrs. Sharpless or on the Hill.

—John Carroll and Miss Nettie Winters were married at Richwood last Thursday night. Mr. Carroll is a Marion boy and an employee of Marion Steam Shovel shops. Only a few of the most intimate friends and relatives witnessed the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. J. E. Graham.

TWO NIGHTS OF OPERA.

The Gilbert Comic Opera Co. at Music Hall, Friday and Saturday.

The Gilbert Comic Opera Co. will appear at Music Hall on Friday and Saturday evenings of this week, in Little Duke and Girofle Girofla.

Speaking of the company, Mr. E. W. Lewis, general agent, says: "We will come in great shape. Mae Sylvester, our prima donna, has long been recognized as one of the brightest comedienne on the stage. The character of the Little Duke fits her like a glove. Her support, too, is very strong, numbering such artists as George Thompson, Rita Booth, George Pyke, Robert Kane, Bert St. John, Guy Wood, Ward and the well-known leader, Al Henderson.

"The female chorus will surpass all others seen in comic operas for lovely faces, forms and fresh voices.

"The opening opera, Little Duke, had a run of two weeks in Toledo, to the capacity of the Presque Isle opera house. Little Duke is full of comic situations, fine singing and graceful dancing. I am sure it will make a big hit here with your music and fun-loving people."

—Sherman Shultz spent Sunday with friends in Shelby, O.

THE LATEST IN JEWELS.

A grain of corn in yellow enamel is a fantasy for a scarpin.

Gold parrots hung with jeweled balls at the ribs are among the newest charms.

Small orchids, with a single diamond dewdrop or a tiny diamond tendril, are used as earrings.

A Tam of Shantier can of metallized gold checks with a diamond feather, is an odd fancy for a brooch.

Among the latest gold watches are some oval with ornamental lines of fine wire and set with colored stones in cabochon.

Jeweled insects have lost nothing in favor. One of the prettiest pieces of the jeweler's workmanship recently seen was a silver bee, the body of which was a colored diamond.

A curious clasp for a bracelet is a plaque in which there is a representation of a city, with a diamond as the setting sun in the distance, and a castle on a slope in the foreground.

The chateleine is made of oblong blocks of onyx set in tiny threads of gold. Each block has a flower like form in diamonds. The watch is an onyx globe with a grille of diamonds.

An onyx bar used as a mourning brooch, has the upper side marked with small gold projecting bars, in the end of each of which is a diamond, and each supports a swinging diamond.

New brooches have the form of white plaques in which are tiny medallion forms in red and blue enamel, with tiny diamond centers, or across the center are two red lines inclosing a row of diamonds.

What ought to be a lucky brooch is made of three gold feathers streaked with colored enamel. These are curled and linked as to make a three leaved clover, horsehooves, and even a heart form within the circle.

Knife edge bracelets with overlapping ends have two or three jeweled flies or bees marking the boundaries. In the less expensive bracelets the moonstone takes the place of the diamond, but the form is still the bee, wasp or fly.

A cluster of white thistle-down, sparkling with tiny diamonds on its silken spikes above diamond leaves, is one of the prettiest ornaments of the season. Another design is a carefully worked out thistle bud of gold with the bloom of amethyst quartz.—Jewelers' Circular.

One More Chance for Dempsey.

St. Francisco, Sept. 22.—Ross Jackson, vice-president of the Occidental Athletic club, is in receipt of a letter from George La Blanche in which he says: "I intend to give Mr. Dempsey one more chance, and that very soon. I will meet him at place, with the same gloves, or at least gloves similar to those we fought with last winter."

—The types made us say Frank Stoll for Frank Thew in Saturday's issue. It is the latter who has purchased a lot and will build in Leiller's addition.

—There were surface indications today that some wholesale arrests would be made of business men who kept open houses Sunday, but it was impossible of course to get anything in advance of the actual occurrence.

—Rev. R. Wallace preached a sermon Sunday evening on the sensation of the hour—the arrest and incarceration of Joe Gaites, and in it told many wholesome truths. It was one of Rev. Wallace's practical discourses, of which he gives his congregation many.

—Advices from the drillers of the first well of the Marion Oil, Gas and Coal Co. state that the drill reached the depth of five hundred feet Saturday night. As the drill goes down the hopes of the stockholders go up. We hope they may realize their greatest expectations.

A Boquet for the Editor.

To THE EDITOR OF STAR:—While reading the Saturday's STAR I was greatly impressed with the excellence of our daily paper, and I doubt not many another noted its wonderful growth. To be sure Saturday's edition was unusual, but the regular daily edition has more news in it than many of the neighboring city papers, and indeed leading dailies of the state. I look back six years or more, when the present editor took the paper and contrasting the primitive sheet of that day with the able paper of today, I feel it is a paper to be proud of and the editor deserves words of praise and encouragement. Yours truly,
A. SCHEIDER.

Sleeplessness.

Narcotics and sedatives murder sleep; the natural stupor is soon followed by ill-effects. Simmons Liver Regulator removes the cause of restlessness and sleeplessness by regulating the bowels, by establishing good digestion and by quieting the nerves. "I have been a great sufferer from dyspepsia and loss of sleep. As soon as I took the least nervous I take a dose of Simmons Liver Regulator, and sleep all night."
Mrs. R. BRANT, Griswoldsville, Ga.

ROYAL FLUSHES.

Emperor William was a full private at 7. The czar is one of the greatest art collectors in the world.

Queen Victoria detests sentries, and all the guarding at Osborne and at Balmoral, and as much as possible at Windsor, is done by policemen.

The Prince of Wales is said to be a very good landlord at Sandringham. The peasants' cottages are of a model kind, surrounded by pretty gardens.

Princess Louise has recently completed a statue of the queen, on which she has been engaged for a long time. It is said to be an excellent work of art.

The Princess of Wales was the cause of all feminine eyes during the meeting of the Royal Yacht Squadron at Cowes. She is said to have looked remarkably well.

Prince Louis of Battenberg, when a young man, took a fancy to the art of printing, and wrestled with the types until he became a tolerably good typesetter.

The Princess Marie Leonie, eldest daughter of Prince Napoleon Charles Bonaparte, is about to marry a simple lieutenant in an infantry regiment, of no rank or fortune.

Little King Alfonso of Spain has arrived at the distinction of having his hair cut by a barber. Queen Christina had all years before cut the hair of the little king herself.

Young Prince George is but three removes from the English throne, with a very old grandmother, a father well advanced in years and an invalid brother ahead of him.

The German emperor is a voracious newspaper reader. Fifty of the leading journals of Europe are laid on his table every morning, and immediately after breakfast he plunges through them, shears in hand, nipping any item that strikes his fancy.

THINGS WORTH KNOWING

Borax in the water takes the shine out of the face.

To fumigate a room, heat an iron shovel and drop vinegar on it. Have the doors and windows open.

If it is desirable to keep an article very cold, or to cool it speedily, and ice is not to be had, a pan of cold water on the cellar bottom will often serve the purpose.

Silk underwear should not be rubbed on the washboard nor have soap rubbed on it, unless on specially soiled spots. It should be gently squeezed in the hands in a lather of tepid water.

Have your dress bound with velvet or velvet instead of dress braid, if you would prevent your shoes from receiving the purple bluish on the instep, caused by the rubbing of the skirts when walking.

Fruit cake, if unfrosted, may be kept in earthen jars, but frosting keeps best in tin. Cookies and snaps may be put in covered earthen jars, with cloths to further exclude the air, for they dry very quickly.

Meats should never be exposed to the light, whether they are cooked or uncooked. Too careful attention cannot be given them. A half-hour's delay, or even a few minutes, is often enough for their loss.

People in the country who are annoyed by flies should remember that clusters of clover, if hung in the room and left today, will drive away more flies than sticky saucers of molasses and other fly traps and fly papers can ever collect.

To gargle a sore throat, take of paregoric one teaspoonful, of glycerine two teaspoonfuls, of lime water one teaspoonful. To relieve "tickling" in the throat take the same prescription, without the lime water, but merely sip the mixture, so as to make it hold out a long time.

RAILWAY BREVITIES.

The total number of tons of freight carried in the United States in 1899 was 439, 629,583, and the average haul for each ton was 127.36 miles.

The Canadian department of railroads and canals reports that there are (1899) 13, 325 miles of completed roads in the dominion and 416 under construction.

The Erie railroad secured an entrance into Chicago by purchasing the Chicago and Atlantic railroad. The price paid was $5,000,000. The Erie now has a trunk line system between Chicago and New York.

The Pennsylvania company received the enormous sum of $1,500,000 from the United States for transporting its mails for the fiscal year ending July 1. The amount of $250,000 was for handling the mail west of Pittsburgh.

The railroad from Tartar Bagardjik to Constantinople was contracted to be paid for so much per mile. The contractor made it as crooked as possible in order to increase the number of miles. Wagon roads between the termini are 100 miles shorter than is the railroad.

Only one tree stands within twenty feet of the roadside of the Chicago, St. Louis and St. Paul railroad. This is spared at the request of a farmer whose son was fatally injured and was sheltered by it in his dying moments. It is nearly fenced in and is known to the railroad men as "the Lone Tree."

Between the Clipper Mills and Stuart Point, Sonoma Valley, Cal., where a rail road crosses a deep ravine, the high trees are saved on a level with the surrounding hills, and the timber and trees are laid on the stumps. The rails are seventy feet above the bed of the ravine at the highest point.

RICH IN YEARS.

Mrs. Powers, of Kingston, N. Y., is worth $3,000,000 and is 100 years old.

James Wood, a Portsmouth, N. H., tailor, in active business, is 94 years old.

"Anny Peggy" Ray, who is said to be 112 years old, is the oldest pensioner on the United States rolls.

Mrs. Mary Wing, of Fayette, Mo., 80 years old, does the washing, cooking, sewing, knitting, etc., for a family of four.

Professor F. W. Newman, brother of the cardinal, is now 55 years of age. At 62 he turned vegetarian, and since then he has needed no physician.

A. M. Clark, of McGregor, Ia., has an army record. He was a drummer boy in 1812; bugler for Gen. Scott in the Mexican war, and served through the rebellion. He is a nonagenarian.

Col. Webb, of Chester, Pa., is in the ninetieth year of his age. He can stand upon a chair, bend backward, touch his head upon the floor and rise up again without the aid of his hands.

HE ALWAYS TOOK IT.

Mr. Hoffman Howes—I see some fellow has an article in The Evening entitled "Have We Two Bwans or One?" What do you think of that question, Miss Flight?

Miss Flight—Well, really, between you and me I think we have only one—Puck.

He Always Took It.

Mamma—Why, Susie, you've offered your candy to everybody but little brother. Why don't you let it go to him?

Susie—with my sweetest candy!—Because, mamma, little brother always takes it.—Harper's Bazar.

He Was Cautious.

She nervously—What do you think of my biscuits, dear?

He—(Hm!) I don't care except to give an official opinion on weighty subjects.—Harper's Bazar.

It Wasn't Hard Wood.

"You mean to say the whole pole of lumber fell on you, and you were not hurt?"

"Yes. But you must remember it was not a hard wood!"—Harper's Bazar.

Did Not Know How to Set.

Holley: That chicken I ate for dinner doesn't set well on my stomach.

Gazette: Perhaps it wasn't a hen.—Drake's Magazine.

Reopening of Free Baptist Church.
As the bells of the old church rang out their familiar strains Sabbath morning a large congregation gathered to recognize in the reopening of the Free Baptist church a much improved edifice. The beautiful appearance of the auditorium is a change of which the members of this church may well feel proud. New papering and painting has been done and it presents a very marked difference. New carpets are also features of the great improvement.

The order of service was somewhat varied, music being a prominent part of the program. The choir, under the leadership of Miss Carrie Winnick, was never heard to better advantage. Misses Ida and Emma Sheets, of Brush Ridge, also sang on this occasion, and fit themselves great credit. Miss Ida's beautiful solo of "Salvati" was given in an impressive manner and with the appreciation of all the listeners.

Rev. Hale preached an able sermon from the text in Acts 1:8. "Ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem, and in Judaea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth." From the subject many deep truths were brought out, and the discourse was one of great interest.

The flowers placed on the altar were most excellent and added greatly to the charm of the service. The newly furnished church, with its clean and polished interior, and the happy and improving the church, and the new pursue with pleasure, which they are interested.

—Cunningham, the plumber.
